

INSTITUTE for the ARTS & HUMANITIES

Summer International Collaborative Research Grant

Grant description and application components

The Institute for the Arts and Humanities invites proposals from faculty at the rank of associate professor in the fine arts and humanities with a primary appointment in the College of Arts and Sciences for the Summer International Collaborative Research Grant. This grant will provide $20,000 of ongoing funding for up to five years for international projects beginning in summer 2023. Faculty may use the funds to travel abroad and establish new collaborative research projects or continue existing ones. Two grants will be awarded. These funds will expire on June 30, 2028.

- Preference will be given to proposals for projects with one of UNC's four strategic partners, King's College London, Universität Tübingen, National University of Singapore, and Universidad San Francisco de Quito.
- Proposals for new or existing collaborative research projects with a host organization, such as a university, museum, think tank, or consortium will also be considered.
- Research products should be detailed in the proposal, with an explanation for why a given product is important to the recipient's field or professional development.

Please note the following components of the application as you may wish to draft them in a word processor prior to proceeding with the application.

1. Narrative proposal that explains the importance of international collaborative research for this project, its potential for elevating the applicant's international reputation in their field, and the kinds of anticipated research outputs resulting from this project (1000 words max.)
2. Work plan with activities beginning in summer 2023 and continuing through subsequent time periods as necessary for the collaborative project (one-page)
3. CV
4. Proposed budget

Research funds may be used to pay for the following:

- Up to $5,000 on summer salary, including fringe, taken during the summer of 2023
- International and local travel
- Lodging and meals (based on the local cost of living)
- Books and supplies, including archival research, reproductions, and research equipment
- Funding UNC graduate research assistants, including travel
- Hosting, catering, and venue rental for international events, conferences, or symposia held at UNC – Chapel Hill
- Honoraria, speaker fees, and consulting fees for services provided in the United States
- Professional development activities for related conference registration fees and/or membership fees for international scholarly organizations

Deadline to apply:
Monday, March 27, 2023

Applicant information

Applicant Information

Name	<input type="text"/>
PID	<input type="text"/>
Department	<input type="text"/>
Email address	<input type="text"/>
Campus address	<input type="text"/>
Campus phone number	<input type="text"/>

Are you currently at the rank of associate professor?

- Yes
 - No
-

Is your primary appointment in the College of Arts and Sciences?

- Yes
 - No
-

Thank you for your interest in this opportunity. At this time, the Summer International Collaborative Research Grant is only available to faculty whose primary appointment is in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Proposal information

Proposal Information

Please provide the following details about your proposed research project:

Proposal Title	<input type="text"/>
Name of Institutional Partner (university, museum, archive, etc.)	<input type="text"/>
Sponsor's/collaborator's name	<input type="text"/>
Contact person's email address	<input type="text"/>
Is this a new or ongoing collaboration?	<input type="text"/>
Proposed start date	<input type="text"/>

Please enter a 250-word abstract (you will upload a full proposal later):

Please summarize research methods and language proficiency necessary for this project:

Please enter your five most significant professional accomplishments or honors:

Please list previous support you have received from the Institute for the Arts and Humanities (fellowships, grants, awards, prizes):

Please list additional sources of support available to you for this project:

Document Upload

Document Upload

Please upload a 1000-word narrative proposal for this project:

Include information on the importance of international collaborative research for this project, its potential for elevating the applicant's international reputation in their field, and the kinds of anticipated research outputs resulting from this project.

Please upload a one-page work plan for this project:

If available, please provide a letter from your sponsor or collaborating institution confirming your international research:

Please upload a proposed budget for this project:

Department Chair Approval

By typing your name in the provided field, you certify that your Chair has approved your proposal. This application will be submitted once you click "submit" below.

Department Chair
Name

Applicant Name